Subject: Last 10 nights of Ramadan

To Whom it May Concern:

The undernamed employee/student is currently observing Ramadan. Ramadan is the holiest month in the Islamic Calendar. Muslims that are physically able abstain from food and drink and thus fast from before sunrise to sunset.

While the entire month is a time for reflection and worship, the last ten nights of the month are particularly special. In addition to the special night prayers that occur during Ramadan in the mosque, the last ten nights call for additional worship, with night prayers extending to around 2 or 3 AM, followed by the normal morning prayer, Fajr, at around 6:35 AM.

Unsurprisingly, these last 10 nights, while full of spirituality, can take a toll. For this reason, we ask that you extend your understanding to the undernamed student/employee, especially in regards to any timelines, assignments or absences he/she has.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call our mosque at 972-231-5698 or email us at staff@iant.com.
